The extraordinary story of a young woman's escape from North Korea and her journey to freedom in South Korea.

Yeonmi Park was born in North Korea in 1993. Her childhood was marked by poverty, hunger, and fear. She witnessed the public execution of her uncle and the death of her father from starvation. In 2007, at the age of 13, she and her mother made the perilous journey across the frozen Yalu River into China. They spent the next several years living in hiding, constantly fearing discovery and repatriation. In 2009, they finally made it to South Korea, where Yeonmi was able to start a new life.

One in a Billion is Yeonmi's memoir of her childhood in North Korea and her journey to freedom. It is a harrowing and inspiring story that sheds light on the brutal reality of life under one of the world's most repressive regimes. Yeonmi's story is a testament to the power of the human spirit and the importance of freedom.
