EXTREME SPORTS TRICK 10

Ride a Skateboard

Once your dog has acclimated to the board and enjoys being on it, she's ready to roll!

Board Acclimation (page 282)

SAFETY You need excellent recall when you take your dog on any off-leash skateboard adventure.

The board surface must have a good grip. Check the grounds where you plan to skateboard for trip hazards, such as uneven surfaces or a stray pebble.

VISUAL CUE Set the board down and point to it.

VERBAL CUES "Kick" and "in four" on the board!

- 1 Start by acclimating your dog to the skateboard. At first, hold or fix the board so that it can't move, and gradually release the board so that she has to use balance and is familiar with the movements of the board.
- 2 Leash the deck. Attach an 8-foot cord to the front of the skateboard deck. Use this leash to pull the board along smooth surfaces. Go forward and backward while your dog is on the board. Shape by rolling longer distances—back and forth as you continue to mark and treat. Be patient.
