The Power of One-Minute Goals

At the heart of The New One Minute Manager lies the concept of "one-minute goals." These concise, actionable, and measurable goals allow managers to quickly and effectively communicate their expectations to their team members. By setting clear one-minute goals, managers can ensure that everyone is aligned on priorities and understands the specific outcomes that need to be achieved.

One-Minute Praisings

Recognition is a powerful motivator, and The New One Minute Manager emphasizes the importance of providing timely and specific praise to employees. "One-minute praisings" are brief, sincere, and specific acknowledgements of an employee's accomplishments or efforts. These praisings not only boost morale but also reinforce desired behaviors and motivate employees to continue performing at a high level.

One-Minute Redirects

Inevitably, there will be times when employees make mistakes or need to adjust their approach. The New One Minute Manager encourages managers to address these situations promptly and effectively through "one-minute redirects." These brief conversations are designed to provide constructive feedback, identify areas for improvement, and help employees get back on track.

The Key to Success

The success of The New One Minute Manager lies in its simplicity and effectiveness. By focusing on three key elements – one-minute goals, one-minute praisings, and one-minute redirects – managers can create a high-performance work environment where employees are motivated, engaged, and empowered to achieve exceptional results.
